"PEOPLE MUST AID DRY ENFORCEMENT"

Commissioner Roper So Declares in Speech at Rally at Liberty Hut.

Citizens living under a republican form of government have a greater responsibility than those whose laws are administered by a monarchy, and the effectiveness with which the prohibition laws are enforced will depend largely on the amount of co-operation the government authorities receive from the people, said Commissioner Daniel C. Roper of the bureau of internal revenue, who was the principal speaker at an "enforcement rally" at Liberty Hut last night.

The rally, held under the auspices of the international reform bureau, will conclude with a meeting at the same place tonight, when Advocates General Palmer will be the chief speaker. Cold weather kept down the attendance at last night's meeting, and the low temperature of the big hall caused an early adjournment. It has been arranged to have the auditorium more effectively heated tonight.

Secs Need of Aid. "In our form of government the citizen has liabilities as well as assets," said Commissioner Roper. "We talk most about our assets, but the way we meet our liabilities is the chief test of our fitness for citizenship. It is the duty of every citizen to aid in the enforcement of law, and a person not willing to do this is practicing dishonesty."

In facing the task of enforcing constitutional prohibition I am inspired by a confidence in the people of the United States, said Commissioner Roper. "The wise majority of officers are responsible for the enforcement of law and order. The obligation rests on all officers and all citizens."

"One duty of the citizen is to watch the officers of the law, federal, state, county and municipal. Encourage them when they are right and do not be backward about action when they are wrong. When an official wilfully lax in his duties has immediate superiors should be notified that they may take action. Criticism in the press of the country should be kept honest."

Dr. Crafts Presides. Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts, superintendent of the reform bureau, presided at the rally, and Percy S. Foster directed the singing. Solos were sung by the Rev. I. R. Patch and David Reid.

Announcement will be made tonight of the result of the straw vote taken in three democratic and three republican states. The vote has been polled by the reform bureau and the question is which of the fifteen leading candidates for the presidency would be the best executive to enforce constitutional prohibition.
